Dear Sir/Madam -

I am the custodian of files appointed by the Oregon Supreme Court for former Oregon attorney Glenn C. Brown. I have never received any physical file from Mr. Brown's office into my custody concerning the application number(s) above. I am nonetheless contacting you to advise you that former Oregon attorney Glenn C. Brown is listed as the attorney of record for the above listed patent application or applications, but is not longer practicing law. Around April 2008, attorney Glenn C. Brown completely closed his law practice. In August 2008, he relinquished his client files to me as an agent of the Oregon State Bar Professional Liability Fund, at which time I became the custodian of those files. On November 18, 2008, Mr. Brown resigned from the Oregon State Bar while there were disciplinary charges pending against him. A copy of that resignation is attached. The Oregon Supreme Court accepted Mr. Brown's resignation on December 29, 2008. A copy of that Order is attached. As a result, Mr. Brown is no longer permitted to practice law in the state of Oregon.

Despite his status with the Oregon State Bar and the complete closure of his law office and practice, as I understand it, Mr. Brown is still currently licensed before the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Upon relinquishing his files to the Oregon State Bar Professional Liability Fund, he unilaterally used his customer number to change the address for correspondence with the USPTO to a law firm called "Hurley Re." As a result, every time correspondence for Mr. Brown is mailed from the USPTO, it is sent to the Hurley Re firm and then forwarded to me, as the custodian of his files. I then attempt to locate the inventor and forward the correspondence. However, I am merely the custodian of Mr. Brown's files. I do not represent any of the inventors and I am not licensed to practice before the USPTO. Thus, I cannot act on behalf any of Mr. Brown's former clients.

I understand that the Oregon State Bar's Office of Disciplinary Counsel has kept the USPTO's Office of Enrollment and Discipline apprised of Mr. Brown's disciplinary status in Oregon and his resignation from the Oregon State Bar. However, I understand that, until the OED takes formal action, if any, Mr. Brown will still be considered and attorney of record for the above listed patent application or applications. However, because Mr. Brown has completely closed his legal practice and is no longer licensed to practice in Oregon, the inventor or inventors listed above are not receiving any advice, assistance or correspondence relating to the application or applications listed above from Mr. Brown.

Therefore, to ensure that the inventors receive timely correspondence under these circumstances, the OED suggested that I ask that you, as the examiner, to direct all future correspondence and/or notices directly to the inventor at the address listed in the oath or declaration submitted for the above application or applications until a new power of attorney is submitted revoking Glenn Brown as the attorney for the inventor and/or inventors. Although, I have sent a letter to the address listed for each inventor in the oath or declaration for this application or applications in which I have advised the inventor or inventors of the situation and asked them to change the power of attorney for each application, this process may take some time. In the meantime, in order to avoid the inadvertent failure to respond to any correspondence you send relating to this application or applications, please send a copy of any correspondence or notices for the above listed application or applications directly to the inventor or inventors.

Thank you in advance for your assistance with this matter. Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact me.

Very truly yours,

Kathryn M. Pratt
